

The Most Unreasonable Prophecy of the Century is About to Be Fulfilled: John Paul II Will be the Next Pope

World's Last Chance adamantly foretells why Benedict will be the last human pope. The next pope will be John Paul II impersonated. The ministry believes this prophecy will bring about Universal Sunday Laws which will accelerate the final conflict immediately before Christ's Second Coming.

We believe we are the only ministry online that provides a Christian with all the knowledge on future events needed to prepare for the Second Coming.

We do not fear the future. It believes that Bible prophecy has revealed all the main events that will happen before the Second Coming. This rapid succession of events will begin as soon as the next pope appears who will be a demon impersonating John Paul II.

World's Last Chance appears unbending in its single-minded obsession with this prophecy found in the book of Revelation, chapter seventeen. In its campaign to spread this message around the world, the ministry has produced two videos: Prophecy of the Century, and its sequel Prophecy of the Century II available on Youtube and Google Video.

We want to make sure the world knows where we stand before it happens. It sounds ridiculous now but once it happens people will realize how accurate Bible prophecy is. The next pope will have a demonic agenda to call for Sunday Laws. These laws rebel against the Saturday Sabbath of God's eternal law.

For close to two years we have posted a study, Next and Last Pope, which is yet to be refuted. This study explains from the Bible why World's Last Chance believes the next pope will be a demon impersonating John Paul II.

When this demon impersonating John Paul II comes -- as he surely will -- the Second Coming of Christ will be only a few years away. By visiting World's Last Chance you can learn how to prepare for Christ's second coming.
